This is to inform you that I have taken the following actions on a recommendation made to me by the Institution-Wide Committee Fall 2017.

1. Approved changes to the Computer Science Program as follows:

    a) The program faculty reviewed the Computer Science Program to ensure that all courses are transferable to Drexel University and Temple University which are the schools where the majority of Computer Science majors transfer.
    b) The program faculty ensured that all computer languages are represented in the revised curriculum.
    c) All directed electives are listed instead of a generalized statement.
    d) General Education requirements are specified.
    e) CIS 150: Network Technology is removed as an option to CIS 205: Database Management Systems, since the two primary transfer schools prefer that students have a database course and do not accept CIS 150. CIS 150 may still be taken as a directed elective.
    f) The titles of CSCI 111 and CSCI 112 are updated to reflect the course changes that were made in Fall 2017.

2. Approved changes to the Computer Information Systems: Information Technology Program as follows:

    a) OA 102: Keyboarding and OA 110: Professional Keyboarding are removed from the curriculum and replaced by CIS/CSCI concentration courses to provide stronger programmatic alignment with related proficiency certificates.
